BRITAIN'S ISOLATION

General Distrust of the Powers in Her Professions.

THE ENEMY OF EUROPE

ABSORBS EVERYTHING OF VALUE IN THE WORLD.

British Troops For Africa—French Jingoism—Monte Carlo Profits—Falling Off in British Trade—Gladstone Contemplates a Biography—Gossip of Nobles.

London, Nov. 13.—(Copyright 1897 by the Associated Press)—The speech of the Marquis of Salisbury at the Guild Hall, on Tuesday last, Lord Mayor's day, again proved him to be the past master of saying nothing in many soothing words. It was essentially a peace speech, and did not contain a single indication as to how far the government is prepared to go in Indian, Egyptian, Sudan or Niger affairs, beyond a general "What can be done will be done." Even the supposed menace to France has since been explained and was not intended to excite French feelings, but was merely to give English public opinion mild satisfaction from a pretended bluff.

SPLENDID ISOLATION.
The premier's utterances on the subject of international federation led to the conclusion that the government is wearying of Great Britain's isolation, and that the Imperialistic plans of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, are not yet progressed enough to permit Great Britain to maintain her policy of separation from the rest of the world.

The continental newspapers regard distrustfully the policy of the cabinet of the powers coming from the leader of the power, which, rightly or wrongly, the whole of Europe believes to have been the most untrustworthy element in it. A Vienna newspaper voices the general distrust, saying:

"England has seized in Africa, as elsewhere, the lion's share. First she extended Germany, tricking her out of promising territory in exchange for the crumbling rock of Belgium. Then she caused Italy to yield for her in Egypt, and has now only to deal with one opponent, whom she despises, namely, France, to which she has at last been an unpleasant neighbor, continually bearing pieces from her living body. She took Canada and everything valuable the French had in Asia, mostly by cunning, and proved herself the perpetual enemy of the whole continent. Now she proclaims the right of exclusive possession of all the Niger territory worth having."

JINGOISM IN FRANCE.
The momentary check caused by the Marquis of Salisbury's bluff has been followed by a recrudescence of jingoism in France, which has been intensified by the arrival in Paris yesterday of the band of the czar's Preobrazhensky regiment, which has been sent to the French capital as an earnest of Russian friendship. Another incentive to Chauvinism has been found in the announcement that a strong detachment of Russian cavalry and artillery will shortly sail from Odessa in the Djibouti and thence will go to King Menelik's capital with the object of assisting the French to thwart the British in grabbing central Africa. Consequently the tone of the Paris newspapers is again excited. They claim that the possession of France is unassailable, both by virtue of justice and recent military operations, which, it is asserted, assure the permanent occupation of all the Niger territory already hypothesized on the French maps, and the French minister for foreign affairs, M. Hanotaux, is being urged not to make any concessions.

BRITISH TROOPS IN AFRICA.

On the other hand, Great Britain is not idle. Thirty army officers left Liverpool today for Lagos, on the west coast of Africa, and it is asserted that Captain Frederick Lugard, of the Royal Niger company, with 50 more British officers, will start for Africa next week, with instructions to lead the land expedition of the Bousa, in conjunction with the Niger gunboat flotilla. Great Britain is making the evacuation of Bousa by the French a sine qua non.

MONTE CARLO PROFITS.

The budget of Monte Carlo shows that the profits for the year ending Oct. 31 were 5,000,000 francs below those of the previous year. No reasons are assigned for this falling off. The bank's outlays include 2,000,000 francs to the French of Monaco; police and grounds, 1,500,000 francs; salaries, 1,000,000 francs; orchestra and sports, 800,000 francs; payments to ruined gamblers, 300,000 francs; and for the prevention of suicide, 100,000 francs. The number of suicides during the year totaled up 35 persons.

While a preliminary meeting of the representative strikers engineers and the employers of the men will be held on Monday next, to settle upon the terms of the conference arranged through the mediation of the board of trade, the expectation of a speedy settlement of the dispute is hardly more sanguine than it was a week ago.

Alphonse Daudet is a candidate for the late Duke of Anjou's seat in the French academy.

Isen has decided to abandon Norway and is going to Berlin to attend the celebrations in commemoration of his birthday. Thereafter he will live in Germany.

RHODES AND KRUGER.

The reason for the absence of Mr. Cecil Rhodes from the festivities attending the recent opening of the railroad to Bulawayo, is said not to be due to ill health, but to be part of a well-organized plan to defeat Kruger in the election of the presidency of the Transvaal, which occurs about two months hence.

The Saturday Review, which has been full inside information regarding South African affairs, believes there is a fair working chance of Mr. Rhodes defeating Kruger and electing a Boer who will not be hostile to the mining interests. Had Mr. Rhodes appeared at Bulawayo, that town would have converted the whole affair into a personal triumph for Mr. Rhodes, which would have antagonized the Boers and would have undone all the pacificatory work of the politicians, the sole object of which is to defeat Kruger.

The famous Louis XV drawing room suite, composed of a sofa and six arm chairs with old Beauvais tapestry, has been sold in Paris to a London dealer for £14,000 ($70,000).

MARCHING BACKWARD.

A series of articles which is attracting much attention, and which is headed "Marching Backward," has been appearing in the Daily Mail. The writer has shown that Great Britain is falling behind in the great industrial race, and has demonstrated how the United States, France and Germany can show increases to the amount of $25,000,000 in the 12 years extending from 1885 to 1895. It is further proved that the imports of the United Kingdom in the same period decreased $9,000,000 ($45,000,000).

BRITISH SPOILS SYSTEM.

While the English newspapers generally are preaching against the "spoils system" in America, contrasting it with British methods, Mr. Henry Labouchere, in truth, is unable to find much difference in the political customs of the two countries. He points out that a number of well paid court appointments are always distributed among the peers on the winning side, and adds that the house of commons gets its share of patronage, showing that there are many "prizes" on the judicial bench which go to the victors, and asserts that "when the party needs a war chest there are various wealthy gentlemen always willing to subscribe, upon the understanding that they will be repaid by a peerage or by a lesser title." The only difference Mr. Labouchere can see between British methods and those followed in America is that in the United States each party insists upon the rank and file sharing the spoils, while in this country the spoils go almost exclusively in the "upper crust."

LITERARY GLADSTONE.

His health permitting, Mr. Gladstone meditates an important biographical work embracing the lives of most of the distinguished modern divines, but there are disquieting rumors in circulation as to the marked manner in which old age and infirmities are growing upon the "Grand Old Man." He seems to be developing facial weakness similar to Prince Bismarck's. Whenever he catches a cold it settles in his eyes, and in the left side of his face, making it extremely painful to bear. As a result, Mr. Gladstone has been ordered to Rivera in order to escape the winter, and he, with his wife and daughter, will start for Cannes on Nov. 25. At Cannes, Mr. Gladstone and his party will be the guests of Lord Pender, whose daughter is married to Mr. Gladstone's third son.

PRINCE OF WALES' YACHT.

The Prince of Wales' new racing yacht, which is being built by the Hendersons of Glasgow after the design of George L. Watson, is discussed with great interest in yachting circles. It is expected that she will make her debut in the Mediterranean regatta next spring, and the Sportsman and Dramatic News express the hope that the American yacht, "Defender," will be there and "meet such a genuine representative of the sport as the Prince of Wales." The Prince of Wales does not intend to challenge for the America's cup.

BARONETS COMBINE.

The so-called "Baronets' Trade Union," in other words, the movement of the baronets to protect their rights and seek redress for their grievances, in view of the recent decision according children during the legal life of peers the title of "honorable," and giving them precedence after the younger children of barons and ahead of baronets, is taking form.

OLD PELKY'S WILL.

Daughter Inherits Only by Getting Rid of Her Husband.

Fitzgerald, Ga., Nov. 13.—"Lord" Eversford, the fugitive from justice, will not be any richer from the death of his rich father-in-law, Alexander Pelky, a Lascelles married Miss Pelky over the violent opposition of her parents, and Pelky altered his will, and left his money to his brother and sister. The estate amounts to $100,000. The will makes provision for Mrs. Lascelles "if she ever gets rid of her hypocritical husband."

VAN PELT-COOLIDGE FEUD.

Resumption of Hostilities—Two Killed in Ambush.

Crecent, City, Ore., Nov. 13.—The feud between the Van Pelts and Coolidges was resumed Thursday, and resulted in the killing of Al Coolidge, and the wounding of W. W. Smith by parties in ambush. The two men were the two previously reported as the attacking parties in two former engagements, one on the 7th of last month, and the other on the 14th.

Coolidge and Smith had been to John Cooley's place, about two miles up the Cheeto river, and were returning in a two-horse wagon. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon they were fired upon from the front by parties in concealment, Coolidge falling lifeless in the bed of the wagon.

Smith was at the same instant hurled to the ground, and knowing well the peril of long remaining there, he scrambled down the steep hill and, seeking the shelter of trees and rocks, succeeded in getting back to the place of Cooley, with whom he returned to find the corpse of Coolidge.

No arrest has so far been made, nor is there any well defined suspicion as to the individual who did the shooting.

LYNCHING THWARTED.

Opportune Arrival of Troops Saves a Negro Rapist.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 13.—The timely arrival of troops at Carrollton, Pickens county, about daylight yesterday morning thwarted the efforts of a mob to lynch Budd Board, colored, on trial there for rape. The lynchers were just preparing to close in upon the court house, where the sheriff and a dozen deputies had stood guard all night, when the Warren county guards of Tuscaloosa drove up and dispersed the throng. The soldiers surrounded the court house. Court was reconvened at 3 o'clock. By noon it was over and Board had been sentenced to hang Dec. 10.

After the trial Board was taken back to jail, where a guard will be held until he is removed to some safe point for safe keeping.

Governor Johnson says he is greatly gratified at the success of the officers and troops in thwarting the mob, and will spare no efforts to give the prisoner the full protection of the law.

People in General.

The Earl of Harrington, who has been running a fruit store in London, at which he sells the products of his gardens, has now added to it a cream cheese branch.

Prince Bismarck has fought over 30 duels.

The newest prime minister under the British crown is Mr. Haultain, of the northwest province, of Canada. He was born in England, but has passed most of his life in the western parts of the dominion. He is a barrister with a good local practice, and is about 40 years of age.

A woman arrested for keeping a dog without a license in London, branded extreme poverty, and the magistrate allowed her 14 days to raise the money. The newspapers spoke of the case, and within a week the clerk of the court received $154 from British dog fanciers for her relief.

Sir Charles Mordaunt, Bart., the plaintiff in the notorious Mordaunt divorce case, in which the Prince of Wales was one of the co-respondents, died recently in London. This is the case where the prince chose to go upon the stand and was believed to have "perjured himself like a gentleman."

A curious discovery has been made in the archives of the Spanish navy—the bills of payment of the crews who composed the caravels of Christopher Columbus. The sailors, according to their class, received from 10 to 12 frances a month, including their food. The captains of the three large caravels had each $9 francs a month. As for Columbus himself, who had the title of admiral, he was paid 1,900 francs a year.

The death is announced at Sidmouth, Devon, England, Oct. 1, of P. O. Hutchinson, a great-grandson of the noted Thomas Hutchinson, last colonial governor of Massachusetts. Mr. Hutchinson was the editor of the diary of Governor Thomas Hutchinson, published in Boston some ten years ago. Mr. P. O. Hutchinson was in his 87th year. He lived in a very picturesque and unique house, at Sidmouth, called the Old Chancel, which he built from the ruins of an ancient church that had been pulled down.

Parson Changed His Mind.
Robert Kent, "the grand old man" of Hastings, tells a few amusing anecdotes of the eccentric "Old Parson Whistler," says the London News. One day he went up the belfry, and there he found a bricklayer chap whitewashing the walls. He was a member of the local band, was the bricklayer, and he was whistling away a dance tune as hard as he could go, so that he didn't hear the parson coming up.

"Is that a proper time for a place of worship?" shouted old Whistler, and the young chap was took aback, and sort of shamefaced.

"Beg your pardon, sir," he said, "but I forgot where I was," and then, to show he was sorry, he started whistling the "Old Hundredth." Now, you see, being a member of the band, his hand kept time with the music, and so the "Old Hundredth" made the whitewash brush go wonderfully slow.

"Oh, get back to your old dance tune," the parson shouted, "or the job'll never get done."
